

PROBATION SYSTEM

Bill Is Blocked

Tawney Objects to Passage Under Unanimous Consent Rule.

A bill providing for the establishment of a probation and parole system in the District of Columbia, which has already passed the Senate, was called up on the unanimous consent calendar in the House today, but its consideration was prevented by the objection of Mr. Tawney of Minnesota.

Mr. Tawney's objection to the bill was that it carried an appropriation for the appointment of additional parole officers and for the acceptance of voluntary aid in enforcing the probation laws. Mr. Tawney contended that the Government had not the privilege of accepting this voluntary assistance which might result in requests for appropriations later.

For these reasons, he said, and inasmuch as Chairman Parkers of the Judiciary Committee, insisted that they should remain in the bill, he was forced to object to passing the bill under the unanimous consent rule.

The bill, therefore, goes back to the regular calendar, and it is improbable that any opportunity can be found to get it before the House this session.

The proposed law provided for the appointment of District Supreme Court of one probation officer and by the Police Court of another, as well as assistant and many voluntary assistants as might be needed to enforce the system which might be employed by these respective courts.

AGENT'S REMOVAL STIRS CRITICISM

Interior Department to Be Questioned As to Discharge of Glavis Tawney.

A resolution has been prepared for introduction in the House calling on the Interior Department for the reasons and the authority for the discharge of Horace T. Jones, of Portland, Ore., as special agent of the General Land Office.

Jones testified in favor of Glavis before the special committee which investigated the Ballinger-Pinchot controversy. He has been discharged by Secretary Ballinger, and his friends assert there is no reason for it, other than that he did not take the side of Ballinger as to the Glavis charges.

No other facts have been brought out against him than such as were testified to by Secretary Ballinger, according to Jones. He was under the civil service. His supporters in the House say they intend to get at the bottom of the matter.

PRINCE REMEMBERS HIS POLICE ESCORT

Check for $200 for Pension Fund Is Sent By Tsai Tao.

Tsai Tao, the young Chinese prince, who recently visited Washington with an extensive retinue of secretaries, aides, and servants, was so pleased with his police escort while in the city that he has forwarded to the Commissioners a check for $200 to be deposited with the police pension fund.

In a letter accompanying the check, which was received by the Commissioners today, the royal visitor praised the efficiency of the policemen who were detailed with him on his travels in and about the city, and thanked the Commissioners for the courtesies shown him and the members of his party.

The contribution was accepted by Commissioner Rudolph in the name of the city.

The recommendations of this commission are to serve as a guide to Congress in enacting laws.

The bill contemplates that the members of this commission shall be men of wide experience, and that they shall be chosen from the various sections of the country, and that they shall be men of high character and of high ability.

SUNDRY CIVIL BILL GOES TO COMMITTEE

The sundry civil bill which passed the House Saturday came to the Senate today and was referred to the Appropriations Committee. It had no sooner been reported than Senator Simmons of North Carolina proposed an amendment to his plan for the valuation of physical property of the railroads.

Three times this was voted down in the Senate, while the railroad bill was pending, but the North Carolinian has persisted and is using this means of getting the matter again before the Senate.

It is confidently expected the sundry civil bill will be reported to the Senate within the next two or three days. A debate of two weeks or more is expected over this measure.

Wall Street Market Strong

Local Exchange Closes

MUCH STRENGTH AND MARKET IS STEADY.

NEW YORK, June 6.—The market has shown a tendency to recover some of its lost ground today, the hysteria prevalent during the week having largely subsided. Financiers of Wall Street were inclined to take a more hopeful view of the freight injunction case, and stocks reflected that expectation.

The market opened strong and active, influenced largely by the strong tone of American securities in London. Soon after the opening, the usual drive by the bears occurred, causing prices to decline about 1 point. But the drive was met by better support than for several days, and at about 1 point down prices steadied and began to rise slowly. From that time on there was gradual recovery, as the idea began to spread about Wall Street that the conference between the President and the railroad officials this afternoon would probably not be disastrous as expected. The willingness between shippers and railroads to arbitrate differences was taken as a hopeful sign, and the market at noon showed more inherent strength than it has done for nearly a week.

Conditions Fairly Hopeful.

On the supposition that Mr. Taft's meeting with the Western railroad presidents today will not develop more radical differences than is expected, and that some sort of compromise may be brought about in the meeting of the railroad officials and the shippers tomorrow, the situation will be considerably changed for the better, and stocks may be expected to rise a few points.

The big short interest in the market with enormous profits already gained will be the main influence to be reckoned with. Bears may be expected to contest every inch of an advance in prices for several days. But many shorts are scared, and almost at any moment a covering movement may begin that would help the advance materially.

Market Remains Firm.

From the noon hour on the market showed the same strength that had marked the later trading of the morning. Its activity decreased as prices added, and a disposition showed itself on both sides to let matters drift until after the events of the afternoon at the White House in Washington should be made public.

The course of the market for the day may be illustrated by Southern Pacific, which opened at 119 1/2, declined on early trading to 118, and afterward recovered to 119.

Union Pacific opened at 187 1/2, sold up to 170, reacted to 167 1/2, and at noon was at 169 1/2.

Steel opened at 7 1/2, rose to 7 3/4, reacted to 7 1/2, and at noon was at 7 1/4.

Other stocks went through about the same changes, and prices in general held at the higher levels.

HOLDS ONE OFFICE FIFTY-TWO YEARS

At Age of Eighty-five North Carolina Man Is Again a Candidate.

DURHAM, N. C., June 6.—After having served in office continuously for fifty-two years, John Laws, of Orange county, at the age of eighty-seven, again is in the field as a candidate for register of deeds.

He is declared to be the oldest officeholder in the United States, and during his long term has weathered many political upheavals. It is not doubted that he will come out victorious at this, his latest battle at the polls.

But Laws' claim to distinction does not rest alone with his political success. His matrimonial experience has given him fame as well. At the age of eighty he took to himself a wife barely entered upon her teens, and only recently became the proud father of the third child by this union.

The veteran officeholder saw service in the Mexican war, was a friend of Andrew Jackson, and knew President Polk personally. Except for the fact that Laws does not drink water straight, but mixes it with milk, lemon juice and other ingredients, of soft beverages, he is without eccentricities.

SEEKS MEDICAL TRUST

President Bangs, of Free-Love League, Opposes Proposed Position.

That the American Medical Association is controlled by a small minority of its members who are working to make that organization a trust beside which the Standard Oil Company would be a mere unimportant tyro, was the statement made before the House Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce this morning by Col. Frederick A. Bangs, of Chicago, the representative of the National League for American Freedom, which is opposing the proposed creation of a department of public health.

Colonel Bangs occupied the entire time of the committee's morning session. He said that a majority of the members of the American Medical Association, which is back of the health department bill, did not approve of the course of the minority in control of the Medical Journal, he said, was official organ.

The Medical Journal, he said, was seeking to get control of the publication of all medical works.
